

Benefits for new refugees

Have you recently received a decision on your asylum claim and been granted leave to remain in the UK? If so, any money you were getting from the Home Office will stop within 28 days. If you still need some financial help you may be able to claim benefits instead. Benefits are money that can be paid to you by the government depending on your circumstances. This leaflet tells you what benefits you may be able to claim and what to do if you are having problems getting paid.

This leaflet is for people who have been granted Refugee Status, Indefinite Leave to Remain, Humanitarian Protection or Discretionary Leave – as long as one of these applies to you, and you are not subject to a public funds restriction, you have the same rights to benefits as UK nationals.

Note: This leaflet has been updated to reflect the rules as of March 2015. Universal credit will replace many of the benefits mentioned in this leaflet but is only being gradually introduced in Scotland and won't affect people who are not British citizens yet. Check CPAG in Scotland's website for updated information.

What benefits can I claim?

If you are able to work

You claim Jobseeker's Allowance; you must be looking for work and ready to start.

If you are unable to work

If you are a lone parent with a child aged under 5 or pregnant and due to give birth in the next 11 weeks or are looking after a disabled person, you may be able to claim Income Support.

If you are too ill to work or disabled, you may be able to claim Employment and Support Allowance; you must provide a certificate from your doctor and undergo a medical test.

If you have children

You should claim Child Tax Credit and Child Benefit for any children you look after, or young people under the age of 20 who are still in school or similar. You can claim Child Tax Credit and Child Benefit whether you are working or not. The amount of Child Tax Credit you get will depend on how much other money you have.

If you are working

If you are on a low wage you may be able to claim Working Tax Credit.

If you:

- have a child and:
 - are a lone parent, or
 - your partner is disabled, or
 - your partner is a carer in receipt of carer's allowance,

or

- are disabled, or
- are 60 or over

you must be working 16 or more hours a week.

If you are part of a couple with children and none of the above apply to you, you must be working 24 hours or more per week between you, with at least one of you working 16 hours per week (if only one person works at least 24 hours, you still qualify).

If none of the above applies to you, you might still be able to claim if you are 25 or over and are working 30 hours or more per week.

If you are aged 62 or over

You may be able to claim Pension Credit. You are not required to look for work. The exact age at which you can claim is gradually increasing to 66 in October 2020.

If you are paying rent and council tax

You may be able to claim Housing Benefit and a Council Tax Reduction to help with these. You can claim these whether you are working or not. The amount you get will depend on what other money you have, the type of accommodation you live in and who else lives with you.

When to claim

Normally, you will only be paid from the date you make your claim. So, it is very important to claim as soon as possible after you get the letter telling you that you have been given leave to remain.

When you claim benefits you will have to supply information along with your claim. You will be asked to provide the letter granting you leave to remain and a National Insurance Number. If you have been getting help from the Home Office you may be asked for a NASS 35. If you do not have all the information needed, claim straight away anyway and send in the information as soon as you can – otherwise you might lose out.

If there is a delay in getting the information you need make sure you tell the office dealing with your claim about the delay, otherwise your claim could be closed. It is a good idea to make a note of any phone calls you make about this and keep a copy of any letters you write in case there are any problems later.

Where to claim

To claim Jobseeker's Allowance, Income Support or Employment and Support Allowance contact Jobcentre Plus on 0800 055 6688. Usually, they will complete the claim forms over the phone and you will be given an interview at your local Jobcentre Plus office. To claim Pension Credit, call the Pensions Service on 0800 99 1234.

You claim Working Tax Credit and Child Tax Credit on one form. If you are making a claim for benefits at your local Jobcentre Plus office they can help you make a claim for Tax Credits at the same time. Otherwise, you can claim by phoning the Tax Credits Helpline on 0345 300 3900. Tax Credits and Child Benefit are paid by Her Majesty's Revenue & Customs (HMRC).

To claim Child Benefit you should usually complete the online form at www.gov.uk but can phone 0300 200 3100 if you need help.

To claim Housing Benefit and a Council Tax Reduction you must contact your Local Council. You can find their details in the phone book or your Local Council website.

What if I am left without any money while my claim is being decided?

If you are left without any money you may be able to get a Short-term Advance of benefit. When your claim is decided you will have to pay this back out of your benefit. You should ask the office dealing with your claim about getting a Short-term Advance.

If you are claiming Housing Benefit you should get an Interim Payment of benefit if it takes more than 14 days to process your claim. However, these are only paid if you have provided all the information needed. If it has been more than 14 days since you claimed and you have had no decision ask the office you claimed at for an Interim Payment.

In an emergency you may be able to get a Crisis Grant from your local council or go to your local social work department and ask for help.

If you do not have any money for your children and there is a delay in getting payment of your Child Tax Credit, you should call the Tax Credits Helpline (see above) and ask for a 'next day/interim payment'. However, if they pay you too much you may have to pay the money back.

Is there any other help I can get?

As well as the benefits described above, there are others you might be able to claim. Some of these are described below. To find out more seek further advice (see below).

If you are setting up home you may be able to claim a Community Care Grant to help with this. This is a single payment which you do not have to pay back. You must apply to your local council for a Community Care Grant.

If you have been granted Refugee Leave or Humanitarian Protection you may be able to get an Integration Loan. This is a single payment which will have to be paid back, and repayments can be deducted from benefits. You should receive an application form along with your letter granting you leave to remain.

If you are under 65 and have a long-term illness or disability you might be able to get Personal Independence Payment. You may get this if you need help from someone else, have difficulty walking or problems getting around outdoors. You might be able to claim Disability Living Allowance for a child under 16 who has a long-term illness or disability and needs this sort of help too. People 65 or over who need help to look after themselves may be able to claim Attendance Allowance. You can phone 0800 917 2222 to claim Personal Independence Payment, 0345 712 3456 to claim Disability Living Allowance and 0345 605 6055 to claim Attendance Allowance. It is a good idea to get help with these forms from an advice agency if you can.

If you look after someone who is getting Disability Living Allowance, Personal Independence Payment or Attendance Allowance you might be able to claim Carer's Allowance and Income Support. If you think you might be able to claim Carer's Allowance it is a good idea to get advice as it can affect the benefits of the person you care for. You should usually complete the online form at www.gov.uk but can call 0345 608 4321 for help. For Income Support see above.

If you are pregnant or have children, you may be able to get:

- Sure Start Maternity Grant (usually only for your first child),
- Healthy Start Vouchers
- free nursery place for 3 to 4 year olds,
- local council leisure pass (Kidz Card in Glasgow)
- free school meals

Speak to an advice agency to check if you may be entitled to any of these.

Can I claim any benefit for the time I was waiting for my asylum decision?

If you have been granted Indefinite Leave to Remain, Discretionary Leave or Humanitarian Protection you can only get benefits from the date you were granted leave.

If you have been granted Refugee Status you can get Child Benefit and Tax Credits for the time when you were waiting for a decision on your asylum claim. To get payment for this period, (known as backdating) you must claim within one month for Tax Credits and three months for Child Benefit of the letter informing you that you have Refugee Status.

There is a question on the Child Benefit claim form asking about when you were given leave to remain which you should complete. You should get the full amount of Child Benefit for the period while you were waiting.

For backdated Child Tax Credit send a letter in with your claim form asking for backdating to the date when you claimed asylum. Not everyone will get backdated benefit, it will depend on what money you had while you were waiting for your claim for asylum to be decided.

If you had permission to work whilst waiting for your asylum claim to be decided, and you have done some work, you might be able to claim backdated Working Tax Credit. Send in a letter with your claim asking for backdating. It would be a good idea to get help from an advice agency with this (see below).

Help with interpreters

When you are claiming benefits over the phone, you can ask for an interpreter, if you need one. You can also bring someone along to interpret at any interviews you have to go to, or ask the Jobcentre Plus office to arrange one for you.

You claim most benefits over the phone or online. If you have problems making a claim this way, for example, because of a disability or ill health you may be able to arrange an appointment at a Jobcentre Plus or HMRC office, or arrange that someone visits you at home. You could also appoint someone else to make the claim on your behalf.
